"FRAME-UP," DECLARES INDIAN GUIDE

BEAUVAIS, INDIAN GUIDE, SAYS LARGE SUMS OF MONEY WERE PAID TO WITNESSES

Declares Messages He Sent Mrs. Stillman Were Doctored After Leaving His Hand. COMING HERE ON TRIP. Will Testify if Necessary as to Happenings in Canadian Hunting Camp.

At the office of Stanchfield & Levy, of counsel for Mrs. James A. Stillman, it was said to-day that nothing was known regarding the plans of Fred Beauvais, named as co-respondent in the divorce suit instituted by Mrs. Stillman, to come to this city next week ready to combat any and all charges against Mrs. Stillman in which he has been mentioned.

In an interview in Montreal published to-day Beauvais charged that large payments of money had been made to the persons taken to New York as witnesses against Mrs. Stillman before Referee Daniel J. Gleason.

Beauvais was reported as saying that he had reason to believe messages sent by him by telegraph to Mrs. Stillman had been garbled by persons who had attempted to obtain money from Mrs. Stillman based on threats of telling stories regarding her and Beauvais as to what is alleged to have happened in Mr. Stillman's absence from their Canadian home. It was his custom, Beauvais said, to send telegrams to Mrs. Stillman regarding the progress of work on the place to the telegraph office on plain paper, lacking blanks and to add to them the words "Love to the children." All of this addition except the word "love" in such messages was eliminated some time after they left his hands, he said.

In one instance, he said, a message was sent in his name from Grand Anse regarding the work on a building under construction while he was actually with the Stillman family at Newport. This message, ending with the word "love," was sent in care of Mr. Stillman at the National City Bank, opened at the bank and then forwarded to Mrs. Stillman at Newport, who showed it to Beauvais. He intimated that on his return to Canada he had violent quarrel with the man he believed sent the message.

Beauvais was quoted as saying he knew of Mrs. Florence Leeds and her relations with Mr. Stillman, and sometimes amused himself by calling Mrs. Leeds on the telephone at No. 64 East 94th Street and having light conversation with her "for fun."

No court action in the divorce case was expected to-day by Supreme Court Justice Morchauer, who was sitting in Yonkers in naturalization proceedings. John E. Mack, guardian and counsel for Guy Stillman, the twenty-eight months old presumptive heir to a million and a half of dollars, whose legitimacy is in question, was

TICKET SCALPING BILL IS ADVANCED

New Measure Against Theatre Ticket Speculators Meets Objection Raised by Governor.

ALBANY, March 25.—The Lynch theatre ticket scalping bill was to-day advanced to the order of final passage in the Assembly and will doubtless be passed early next week. This is the bill making it compulsory to print the price on the reverse side of the ticket and making it a misdemeanor to charge more than 50 cents in excess of that price. It is said the objections of the Governor to the Lynch-Walton bill, which he vetoed, have been overcome in the present measure and that if it reaches him he will sign it.

Senator Walton said to-day that he will introduce a companion measure in the Senate next week for which the Lynch bill can be substituted when it reaches the upper house, and the passage of the latter thus facilitated.

NOTED AVIATOR WHO FELL IN TRYING FLIGHT ACROSS U. S.

Lieut. WILLIAM D. CONEY (Copyright, International.)

LIEUT. W. D. CONEY, ARMY FLYER, FALLS, HIS BACK BROKEN

Drops Near Monroe, La., in Attempt to Fly Across United States in 24 Hours.

MONROE, La., March 25.—Lieut. W. D. Coney of the Army Air Service, received probably mortal injuries when his airplane struck a tree while he was attempting to make a landing near Crowley, La., early to-day on his return transcontinental flight from Jacksonville, Fla., to San Diego, California.

The landing was attempted after engine trouble had developed and the plane fell about 175 feet. Lieut. Coney was flying over a swamp wilderness in northeast Louisiana when the engine got into difficulties. His back was broken. His plane was wrecked. The injured aviator is being moved to Natchez, Miss., for hospital treatment. He is being taken over swamp roads for a distance of eleven miles to Winnboro, where he will be placed aboard a train.

A village doctor who was called to attend the officer said that besides a broken back Lieut. Coney apparently had received internal injuries. Owing to his critical condition the trip to Winnboro was a slow one.

The officer crashed with his plane and was unconscious when he was found. He regained consciousness some time later, however, but was unable to say anything except that he had engine trouble and was seeking a landing place when he smashed into the tree.

Residents of Crowley saw Lieut. Coney's De Havilland plane circling about at 7:30 this morning apparently seeking a suitable place to land. Finally the plane was seen to swoop down and crash into the top of a tall tree on moss Lanier's John Bush, a farm laborer, managed to extricate the then unconscious flyer from beneath the shattered parts of his plane and take him to his cabin. Lieut. Coney's home is in Brunswick, Ga.

GERMANY'S ANSWER IS NOT ACCEPTABLE

Handed to Reparations Commission in Reply to Allies' Demand for 20,000,000,000 Marks.

PARIS, March 25.—La Liberté announces that the German delegation here to-day handed to the Reparations Commission the German Government's answer to the Commission's note of yesterday, warning Germany that unless the 20,000,000,000 mark demand was met by May 1, the treaty would be nullified.

The wording of the German reply was considered unacceptable by the Commission the newspaper says.

ALLIES CONSIDER PLANS TO PUNISH GERMANY FURTHER

French Foreign Office Hints Measures Will Be Formulated in Few Days.

NO MORE DISCUSSION. France's Protest Against Further Delay Causes Peremptory Note.

PARIS, March 25.—In accordance with the notice to Germany yesterday that the "rejection by the Reich of its reparational obligations would be reported forthwith to the interested powers," Louis Dubois, Chairman of the Reparations Commission, to-day sent to the Allied foreign ministries copies of the entire correspondence with Berlin on the matter.

This action, which is due to the protest of the French Government against further delay, completely reverses the decision reached by the commission on Wednesday night, which gave Berlin one more chance to make payments demanded of Germany under article 235 of the Versailles Treaty. It inevitably entails the adoption by the Allied Governments of further punitive measures against the German Republic.

At the Quai d'Orsay to-day it was intimated that the character of the new sanctions will be determined through diplomatic channels, and will probably be formulated by the Council of Ambassadors within a few days.

Meantime the Commission has informed Germany that the total amount of 20,000,000,000 gold marks due under the treaty by May 1, must be paid by that date or additional penalties will be inflicted.

The formal notification reads: "There is nothing in the Treaty of Versailles which obliges the commission to hear the German Government upon the conditions under which deliveries to make up the 20,000,000,000 marks mentioned in article 235 should be made or appraised."

"The commission has waited as long as possible, thinking the German Government would take the necessary measures faithfully to fulfill its obligations under article 235. It now is persuaded such is not the case. The commission demands payment of 1,000,000,000 gold marks, normally $240,000,000, because of the certainty that Germany possessed the sufficient funds to make immediate payment."

"We cannot agree with the German Government that in the event of the 20,000,000,000 marks remaining unpaid on May 1 the balance may be settled by the delivery of the German bonds provided for in paragraph 12."

"The dispositions of annex 2, paragraph 12, concerning the issue of new bonds in no way modify the absolute obligation taken by Germany to pay the 20,000,000,000 marks under article 235. In any event, the total amount of 20,000,000,000 marks gold under article 235, must be paid before May 1. The text is imperative, and non-fulfillment of this article, as in any other failure of Germany to fulfill her obligations, would entail penalties."

WEALTHIEST MAN OF NORWAY LOST OFF SHIP IN GALE

Thor Dahl, Owner of $25,000,000 Fortune, Believed to Have Gone Insane.

WANTED AS A WITNESS. District Attorney Had Sent Subpoena Server to Meet Millionaire at Pier.

Thor Dahl, the richest young man in Norway and owner of a fortune estimated at more than $25,000,000, vanished from the liner Bergensfjord during a hurricane on March 15, it became known to-day. The mystery surrounding his disappearance was deepened when it was learned that Mr. Dahl was wanted by the District Attorney's office as a material witness in the case of Detectives Gunson and Maloney, who were indicted a year ago on charges of bribery, extortion and perjury.

Gunson and Maloney were accused of perjury by J. Hamilton Love, an oil operator of No. 54 Wall Street, as a result of a raid they made on his apartment at No. 246 West 73d Street on Dec. 3, 1919. The detectives broke into the apartment and arrested Mrs. Lillian Love, the operator's wife. Their testimony in Magistrate's Court implicated Mrs. Love and a man.

The name of the man in the case appears in the records as Theodore Dolly, but Mrs. Love said this was due to a stenographer's error and that the man was Thor Dahl. His testimony was desired by Mr. Love to prove he was merely a friend of the family and the detectives' testimony was untrue.

Shortly after the arrest, however, Mr. Dahl returned to Norway. Mr. Love learned he was due here yesterday on the Bergensfjord from Norway and asked the District Attorney's office to send a subpoena server to the Brooklyn pier to meet him, in order that he might testify at the detectives' trial, scheduled for April 5. This was done, and the subpoena server was accompanied to the ship by Mrs. Grace Humiston, who had appeared for Mrs. Love in the Magistrate's Court.

When told of Dr. Dahl's disappearance District Attorney Egan for permission to seize Mr. Dahl's effects on the ship. Mr. Egan refused to give this permission.

Capt. Ole Bull reported that the seas were the most tumultuous he had ever encountered, and most of the passengers were kept below decks. At the height of the storm Dahl retired to his cabin and was not seen afterward. Later it was found he had demolished everything in the cabin. He had ripped open the mattress, torn up sheets and covers, cut all his baggage, slit his clothing into ribbons and wrenched the electric light fixtures from their fastenings, smashing bulbs and defacing the walls.

It is not known whether Dahl was washed overboard in the storm or leaped to his death. He had been acting peculiarly since the ship sailed from Norway and it is believed he went insane during the storm. His mother died insane and several brothers are said to be under restraint.

Dahl inherited his great fortune from his father, who was head of a whaling syndicate that has statistics all over the world. He was thirty years old and unmarried.

His mother's name is Mrs. Emma Dahl. The NEW YORK TIMES, Thursday, March 25, 1921, contains a full account of the case of Mr. Dahl and Young Mary Dahl and The Dahl family and their history. All news items broken last night and this morning are published in the New York Times, Sunday, March 27, 1921.

WILSON NEVER GOES SLUMMING; REPLY TO LANSING'S BOOK

Former President Not Likely to Make Rejoinder, Tumulty Declares.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—WOODROW WILSON knows of Robert Lansing's book on the peace conference but probably will have nothing to say concerning it, his friends said to-day.

Joseph P. Tumulty, former White House secretary, gave out a short statement. He said when asked whether Mr. Wilson would have anything to say: "You can say for me that Woodrow Wilson never goes slumming." (A review of the Lansing book will be found on Page 10.)

DOCTORS HASTILY CALLED TO ATTEND WOODROW WILSON

Former President Has Acute Attack of Indigestion—Not Serious, It Is Said.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—Former President Wilson suffered an acute attack of indigestion to-day which caused hurried calls for medical assistance. It was said, however, that he had entirely recovered an hour after the attack.

Dr. Sterling Stieff, who attended Mr. Wilson in the White House during his serious illness, arrived at the former President's Washington residence first, in answer to the call, and upon leaving at 2:30 this afternoon said Mr. Wilson had so completely recovered that he was able to eat a light lunch.

The attack occurred about 12:30 P. M. Dr. Ruffin said, but had passed before he left the house.

He said that "it was not serious in any way," and that the former President was in as good health as ever when he left.

Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Mr. Wilson's personal physician, also was summoned and reached the Wilson home after Dr. Ruffin arrived. Mr. Wilson has been subject to nervous indigestion for some years and has had several attacks since his illness, following his transcontinental speaking tour in favor of the League of Nations.

ASKED TO RELEASE ZIMMER AND NEUF

War Department Admits Gen. Allen Has Been in Communication With Germany.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The release of Gen. Carl Neuf and Franz Zimmer, American deserters sentenced to jail in Germany as a result of their efforts to capture Grover Cleveland Bergdahl, American drifter who drifted off the Gulf, is known as a careful and conservative pilot, and the only possible explanation is that he drifted above a fogbank near the shore and mistook it for a cloud layer over the land.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The four men with George K. Wilkinson of Houston, Tex., in the missing naval balloon are Russell V. Flood, No. 706 South Church Street, Belleville, Ill.; Edward L. Kershaw, (Payne, La.); John O. Elder of Lebanon, N. Y.; and William H. Trefrey, No. 104 Sewall Street, Salem, Mass.

Both Tuesday and Wednesday nights were clear with brilliant moonlight, and officers were unable to understand how Wilkinson permitted the balloon to drift over the Gulf. GERMAN REVOLT DYING OUT AFTER TWO DAYS FIGHTING; WORKERS REFUSE SUPPORT

Communists Driven Out of Eisleben Take to Hills With Machine Guns and Keep Police at Bay—No Disorders Occur in Hamburg.

LONDON, March 25.—Though the situation arising from the Communist outbreak in Germany is still dangerous, the Communists are being overcome by the forces of law and order, according to reports from the different centres, says a Central News despatch from Berlin to-day.

At Eisleben, where the situation yesterday was reported most critical, the police, the reports state, have driven out the Communists, who have entrenched themselves in the neighboring hills and are directing machine-gun fire on the police strongholds. The troops are marching on Eisleben over the highways, as railway communication has been destroyed.

There has been no repetition of the disorders in Hamburg, where the police are masters of the situation, the reports add.

Investigation of the reported Communist attempt to blow up the statue in the Siegesallee in Berlin is declared to have revealed the existence of a widespread conspiracy of violence, which was to have been started to-day, Good Friday.

BERLIN, March 25 (Associated Press).—Belief was expressed in Government circles to-day that unless the Communists succeed in tying up mid-Germany's industrial areas in a general strike the Government will be able to cope with the rioting prevailing in Eisleben, Mansfeld, Hettstedt and Leuna.

The local Communist organizations thus far have not been given open support by the national Communist leaders, most of whom are away from Berlin or are in seclusion here.

EISLEBEN, Germany, March 24 (Associated Press).—The street fighting as a result of the Communist outbreak which has been in progress for the last forty hours in this important copper mining town of Saxony, was continuing desperately to-night, with a hand-to-hand combat at the railroad station and in the streets in the centre of the city.

The rattle of machine gun fire, the crash of hand grenade explosions and the popping of rifles has been going on steadily for the last three hours. Two thousand police were holding the east half of the town, while 2,500 workmen were in possession of the western section. All the workers are heavily armed and well disciplined.

The intensity of the fighting may be judged from the fact that the railroad station changed hands twice in the twenty minutes preceding the filing of this despatch. The police are now in possession of the station.

Bodies of the dead and severely wounded were still lying in the street where the victims fell twenty hours ago. The less severely wounded were crowded in sheltered doorways, with bullets raising puffs of dust about them.

The extent of the casualties on either side is not definitely known, but at least twenty were killed and fifty wounded in this morning's fighting. Railroad and telephone communications with Eisleben have been cut, and no automobilist has been found during the last twenty hours in his car. The correspondent came in to the town on foot. The telegraph office was found in the hands of the police, who consented to transmit this report of the fighting, the sending of the message proceeding while machine-guns raked the adjacent streets and the people living nearby were huddled in their darkened houses, peering through the blinds.

The workmen were holding the municipal lighting plant, but permitted its continued operation. All the roads leading into the town are under fire.
